43ee 8e8f 26a5d938d485 OUR VERDICT An illuminating and ruminative reading experience providing both food for thought and a buffet of titbits for the fact fan In their more reflective moments many birders will have tried to imagine what it's like to be a soaring raptor a speeding swift or perhaps after a night on the tiles a drumming woodpecker Tim

March 9th, 2019 - Bird Sense addresses questions like these and many more by describing the senses of birds that enable them to interpret their environment and to interact with each other Our affinity for birds is often said to be the result of shared senses vision and hearing but how exactly do their senses compare with our own And what about a bird s sense of taste or smell or touch or the ability to detect the earth s magnetic field Or the extraordinary ability of desert birds to detect rain
